THE UNIVERSITY OF ALBERTA STAFF BULLETIN

EDMONTON, ALBERTA

7 DECEMBER 1978

SANTAS NEEDED CONTRIBUTIONS FOR FAMILIES AT CHRISTMAS TIME

There are several student families on campus (especially single parent families) who are financially unable to meet the expectations of their children this Christmas. Basic living expenses can barely be met, let alone the special expenses of the Christmas season. It is hard for young children to understand why there will be no gifts for them this Christmas.

The Office of Student Affairs would like to appeal to the campus community to assist with contributions of clothing, toys, money, etc., to be distributed among these needy students and thereby brighten the season for them. All donations will be gratefully accepted in Room 225, Athabasca Hall.

SPEAKERS' BUREAU

The University of Alberta Speakers' Bureau has been set up to provide community groups and organizations with speakers on a wide range of topics for seminars, meetings, and other gatherings. The purpose of the Bureau is to give the public the opportunity to benefit from the diverse knowledge and expertise available here at the University, but the benefits of the service are really two-fold. The University benefits as well, by learning more about the community, its needs and how we might meet them, and its perceptions of the University.

A recently conducted survey of staff members involved in a teaching or service area has resulted in over a hundred persons volunteering their time and expertise to the Speakers' Bureau. Topics range from computer applications in health care to literature and folklore for children. Virtually all academic specializations are represented in this inventory. Staff were also asked to mention any avocational interests on which they might be interested in speaking. The end result is a well rounded and interesting repository of topics.

An interesting Speakers' Bureau engagement was held recently at Robertson-Wesley United Church. A group of about forty women belonging to the surrounding community meet weekly during the winter months to

UNIVERSITY PRIORITIES COMMITTEE

The Board of Governors has deferred consideration of the Final Report of the University Priorities Committee until February 1979. Those groups who intend to submit responses to the Final Report should submit them as soon as possible, preferably before the last week in December to M.M. McCaughan, Secretary to the General Faculties Council, 3-3 University Hall.

Copies of the Report are available for inspection in the offices of all Deans and Department Chairmen.

partake in such activities as exercise classes, craft lessons, Bible study, and lectures for which they usually have a guest speaker. The group calls the program Coffee Plus and, this fall, they requested a series of lectures on the topic "The Canadian Mosaic." Accordingly, various staff members in the Department of Sociology were asked if they might be interested in setting up a series of lectures on this topic. Baha Abu-Laban presented the first lecture, "An Introduction to the Canadian Mosaic." Art Davis followed this with a lecture on "Social Classes and Regional Disparity," followed by Gubachan Paul who lectured on "Multiculturalism." Joanna Matejko, although not with the Sociology Department, delivered a lecture on "Poles in Canada," and, finally, Gordon Fearn talked on "The Experience of a Mosaic." On the sixth week of the lecture series the speakers were invited to return for a panel discussion of some of the material that they had presented. This final engagement proved to be a very lively and fruitful debate, with audience as well as speakers exchanging views. The group expressed their appreciation to the panel for helping them to better understand the structure and characteristics of Canadian society. The panel, in return, thanked the group for sharing some of their thoughts with them and inviting them to participate in a community function. With both the members of the University community and the members of the larger community benefiting from the experience, the purpose of the Bureau was once again realized.

The Speakers' Bureau is free of charge. If travel outside the metropolitan area is required, however, speakers are reimbursed by the group for any expenses incurred. To make use of the Speakers' Bureau, a minimum of two weeks notice is required. We ask for as much information as possible about the group requesting the speakers, about the meeting, and about the topic(s) in which the group is interested.

In order to make this an effective service, however, we require comment and response from both users and speakers. We ask that they contact us with any suggestions, criticisms, (or compliments) that they may have regarding the Bureau or a particular speaking engagement.

To find out more about the University of Alberta Speakers' Bureau, register with it, or request a speaker, please telephone 432-2325, or write:

INTERNATIONAL STUDENT VISA DIFFICULTIES

International students who are planning to leave Canada over the Christmas holidays are advised to check with the International Student Office to be sure that there will be no difficulty upon re-entering Canada to resume their studies. In some instances students who leave Canada will be required to apply for a new Student Visa and Authorization before they can re-enter the country. In other instances students will be able to re-enter Canada on their present visas. Those people who plan to visit the United States for a short period of time and have applied for and received a Visitor's Visa (Non-Immigrant Visa from the American Consulate in Calgary—application forms are available in the International Student Office) will be able to re-enter Canada as long as their present Student Authorization is still valid. If students are planning to visit any other country, they must be sure that their Visa allows re-entry into Canada.

It should be clearly noted that the Student Authorization is not the Visa—the Visa is a stamp on the passport or on the Student Authorization—they are two different things.

As general and important advice, the International Student Office advises international students to remember three things:

1. Do not let your student and/or employment authorization expire;
2. Do not let your passport expire; and
3. Do not change program, faculty, or institution without prior authorization from Immigration.

The International Student Office, 225 Athabasca Hall, is open from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., including lunch hours.

SENATE

A meeting of the University Senate was held on Friday, 24 November. The following matters were among those discussed.

Tribute to Frank K. Spragins

President Gunning paid tribute to the late Frank K. Spragins, a recently elected member of the Senate and the intended recipient of one of the two honorary degrees to be presented at Fall Convocation. His honorary degree was presented posthumously.

Chancellor's Report

Among the matters raised in the Chancellor's report was the fact that two proposed changes to the Universities Act affecting the Senate had been presented at the fall sitting of the Alberta Legislature. One of the changes, supported in the last meeting of the Senate, was an increase in the size of the Senate

Executive Committee from six to a maximum of twelve members. The second change proposed that the minister's appointees to the Senate would be permitted to serve only one three-year term; at present, such members can be re-appointed for a second term. The Chancellor, while expressing agreement with the first proposed amendment, expressed disapproval of the second, commenting that she did not know the origin of the recommendation or the reasoning behind it.

Chancellor Forest mentioned that a large number of applications had been received for the position of Executive Officer of the Senate. She hoped that the details whereby the Senate would be able to employ its own staff would be approved by the Board of Governors in time for an appointment to be made by February. The Search Committee for the Executive Officer is being chaired by Myer Horowitz, Vice-President (Academic).

Among her various activities since the last Senate meeting, Chancellor Forest mentioned her participation on the Advisory Committee on the Constitution for the Department of Intergovernmental Affairs. She expressed disappointment with the Alberta government's position paper on the constitution, which, she suggested, varied considerably from the Committee's recommendations. She mentioned the People to People Petition on Canadian Unity, in which people from across Canada addressed the people of Quebec, asking them to remain in Canada. She invited those who were interested to obtain copies of the petition from her for circulation.

Finally, she said that the special convocation for Faculté Saint-Jean had been postponed until 8 May 1979.

Executive Officer's Report

The Acting Executive Officer, Mary Totman, reported on her visit to the University of Lethbridge Senate, and stated that the Task Force on Visa Students would be making its report at the February Senate meeting.

Chancellors Emeriti

President Gunning proposed a motion that "whereas the University of Alberta is deeply appreciative of the commitment of distinguished and talented persons who agree to serve it for a period of four years in the capacity of Chancellor; and "whereas the Senate acknowledges the special contribution made to it by the Chancellor in the capacity of Chairman of Senate for a period of four years and would wish to express appreciation formally for the leadership displayed by the Chancellor; therefore be it resolved that former Chancellors of the University of Alberta be designated Chancellors Emeriti."

Senate agreed unanimously to this motion, and at Convocation the following day the title of Chancellor Emeritus was conferred on the immediate past two Chancellors, Louis Desrochers and Ronald Dalby.

Role of Senate Members

The main topic for discussion during the morning session of the Senate meeting was the role of the individual Senate member. Before retiring to discussion groups, the Senate was addressed by members Patti Meekison, Louis Campbell, and Klaus Weiher and by Ann Fielden of the Senate office, on the role of the Senate in general and of individual members and on the nature and role of Senate Task Forces.

In the discussion groups, members were invited to address the following questions:

1. How can the individual Senate member best fulfill the function of disseminating information about the University? How can Senate members best bring to the attention of the University concerns expressed in their own community?
2. What kind of resources do Senate members need to help in their role? (e.g., information from the Senate office; from administration; from faculties).
3. Task Force reports have brought an understanding to many aspects of University life, but considering the time commitment required of Senate members, is there a preferable alternative?
4. Should the Senate develop its own research resources and present only documents that are of the calibre of professional research documents prepared on campus?
5. Should the recommendations of Task Forces be accepted or rejected by Senate? Should they be received as information and forwarded to designated bodies? Should follow-up be extensive, so that bodies to whom recommendations are addressed be required to respond?
6. Should Senate encourage confrontation on issues between the University, Senate, staff, and public?

With regard to the first question, the group considering it suggested that members ought to express the views and concerns of the Senate when speaking before the media and addressing the public, and should express their personal concerns to the Executive for possible consideration. It was also suggested that a question and answer period would be useful at each Senate meeting.

On question 2, it was reported that orientation might be improved for new Senate members, with guidance on how and where to get involved, the possibility of sitting-in on task force and other meetings, and an improved communication among Senate members themselves. It was pointed out by the Chancellor that the Executive meetings were open to any Senate member; she suggested that the date, time, and location of these meetings should be made more widely available to all Senate members.

The group considering question 3 reported that it could not conceive of an alternative to the task force. That group suggested that task force reports be more widely disseminated, made available to the public and sent to MLAs, so that the public would have the opportunity to respond. It was also suggested that, to help translate the reports into action, recommendations be sent forward with a request that action taken, if any, be reported back to Senate. It was noted that this kind of activity had already happened with the 1975 Task Force on the Status of Women report.

The fourth group reported that it felt that the Senate did not need to have its own resources, but rather that the Executive Officer could direct studies to whatever research resources were necessary, both inside and outside the University. It was agreed that task force reports should be of a high calibre but at the same time understandable to the layman. This group felt that the Senate did not know enough about the University and the University did not know enough about the Senate; the group proposed using advertising to invite the public to bring concerns to the senators. To help remedy the lack of communication, this group also recommended a question and answer period in each Senate meeting.

The fifth group, addressing questions five and

The panels pictured above are part of a recent Park Awareness Project designed to inform visitors of the heritage that is protected within the National Parks of the Western Region. While the Project focusses on the Elk Island area, it also includes panels on the other western National Parks. The producers of the project, Gary Kaga, Brent Osbourne, and Kathy Kebarle, all of the Department of Art and Design, worked for ten weeks last summer under the direction of Walter Jungkind of the same department. Professor Jungkind and the three students were congratulated by W.C. Turnbull, Director of the Western Region for Parks Canada, who said the exhibit has the capability to "make tomorrow's citizens aware of the values locked within the National Parks." The display is now on view at the south entrance of Elk Island Park, and it is planned to make the exhibit available to students in the Edmonton School System. six, felt that the Senate ought not simply to accept a task force report "for information," an action that some people felt undermined the value of the task force's recommendations. This group suggested that the Senate follow up the recommendations of a task force report, once it is accepted. It was further suggested that the report, once accepted by Senate, become the Senate report, rather than remaining the task force report. It was also recommended that a report be presented at one meeting and decided upon at the next, to permit Senators time for reflection.

It was agreed to refer the issues discussed to the Senate Executive Committee.

Amendment to Universities Act

Senate discussed the proposed amendment to the Universities Act that would limit members appointed by the Minister to one three-year term (see above). President Gunning moved, and Senate agreed unanimously, that it "represent to the Minister our strong disagreement with the proposed change." It was suggested that the Minister be consulted to determine the thinking behind this proposed change.

Heritage Canada Award

The Heritage Canada Medal was presented to A.M. Holland, architect responsible for the restoration of Pembina Hall and the rebuilding of Athabasca Hall inside its original shell.

Status of Women Report

In the Senate Task Force Report on the Status of Women in the University, recommendation 15 dealt with the situation of undergraduate and graduate women students. A committee of Senate earlier this year identified four tasks in this area that required attention:

- (a) to investigate ways of reviewing high school career counselling in the hope of attracting more qualified students to the University of Alberta;
- (b) to consider the need for special services and facilities for the increasing numbers of married and non-matriculated mature students;
- (c) to consider the question of whether career counselling at the University should be increased or altered in order to ensure that both male and female students are aware of the range of options open to them;
- (d) to consider the implications for women of the University of Alberta's policy on quotas.

It was agreed at the April meeting of the Senate that the University administration should attend to these tasks.

Vice-President (Academic) Myer Horowitz reported to Senate his activities in this regard since April.

He said that the report had been discussed in Deans' Council, where the Deans were encouraged to attend to these concerns at a faculty level. A committee of Deans' Council was struck that approached all deans requesting "faculties take every opportunity to emphasize the desirability of having both men and women in our programs." Deans were also asked "to help professional associations, government agencies and business and industrial firms appreciate the value of employing men and women in occupations that in the past have been identified primarily, if not exclusively, to one sex."

He went on to describe suggestions made to the Registrar's Office regarding such matters as photographs in the Calendars of particular faculties, career days participation, and distribution of faculty information sheets and career outlines to high school counsellors.

He noted that the Director of Community Relations had given his assurance that his office would "use every opportunity to communicate a positive image of the involvement of both sexes in our various programs." He also asked the Academic Women's Association "if it would be interested in sponsoring particular activities for female students who are already on campus."

The Coordinator of Educational Clinical Services in the Faculty of Education and the Director of Student Counselling Services have agreed to sponsor a workshop for school counsellors on this theme, and it was also reported that "more of an effort is being made to help future counsellors become more aware of the wide range of possibilities for both sexes."

Dr. Horowitz further mentioned that he requested the Dean of Students and the Director of Student Affairs to specify additional services and facilities that married and non-matriculated mature students might need.

He noted that, from his study of trends in quota faculties, he found no apparent relationship between quota policy and the numbers of women students. In fact, he noted that the numbers of women in quota programs have been increasing, an occurrence he did not attribute to quotas.

Senate member Dorothy Richardson praised Dr. Horowitz for his report and for the work he had already done and pointed out the need for assessing the remedial action taken. She moved that a report be made to Senate a year from now on the action being taken in this regard. Dr. Horowitz requested that the report to Senate next year be expanded to encompass all the recommendations of the Status of Women report, not just recommendation 15. This motion was approved unanimously.

Dr. Horowitz noted that this was an area that required "continuous attention, and I intend to give it that." He mentioned that he would be working closely with the Deans' Council committee and his Associate Vice-President (Academic), Jean Lauber, in this regard.

Student member Sharon Bell noted that the Students' Council was establishing a committee to act as a coordinating body that it hoped would "serve as a forum for women students on campus to look at issues that face them."

PEOPLE

- Don Gill of the Department of Geography recently presented an invited lecture to the Cambridge Scott Polar Institute's Arctic Seminar Series. The title of Dr. Gill's lecture was "Environment and Ecology of Northern Alluvial Vegetation."
- Wilf Wees will be honored on 28 November by the bestowal of the title of Fellow of the Ontario Institute for Studies in Education. The Fellow Awards were established by OISE in 1973 "to recognize outstanding leadership in education in the province [of Ontario]." According to the press release issue by OISE, Dr. Wees, who has been a member of the Ontario Psychological Association since 1960, is "a leading Canadian educator and psychologist who has become almost a legend in Canadian education."

"Mr. Wees, one of the best known humanistic educators in Canada, has amassed a legion of achievements and honors during his three decade involvement in Canadian education. Before joining the Faculty at OISE in 1968, Dr. Wees had served as teacher, consultant and lecturer in various institutions throughout Canada as well serving with the Ontario Psychological Association, Gage Publishing Company and the Canadian Army. Throughout his career, he has maintained a deep commitment to research and curriculum development and has written widely on the subjects. Dr. Wees is currently collecting and organizing his papers at the request of the University of Alberta and is engaged in the writing of his autobiography."

■ Madeleine J. Monod, Department of Secondary Education, was recently presented with an honorary life membership by the Modern Language Council of the Alberta Teachers' Association.

■ R.L. Busch, Associate Professor in the Department of Slavic Languages, gave an invited paper on "Humorous Counterpoint in Dostoevsky's Novel The Idiot" on 16 November at the University of Calgary.

■ R.K. Wood, Department of Chemical Engineering, presented a paper on distillation and the recent changes in associated technology at the 71st Annual Meeting of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers, held recently at Miami Beach, Florida.

■ F.X. Aherne, Associate Professor in the Department of Animal Science, presented a paper on Sow Feeding Programs at the 1978 Saskatchewan Swine Symposium, 7 to 9 November. The Symposium was sponsored by the Saskatchewan Pork Production Committee.

■ L.P. Milligan, Professor, Department of Animal Science, delivered a paper, "Electron Disposals in the Rumen," at the annual meeting of the Canadian Society of Microbiologists, 20 to 22 October.

■ W.C. Sauer, Assistant Professor, Department of Animal Science, gave a paper, "Future Protein Sources for Swine," at the Pacific Northwest Pork Exposition. The Exposition was sponsored by the Washington Pork Producers' Association and was held from 14 to 17 November.

■ At its first fall workshop held in Harry Ainly High School on 21 October, the Greater Edmonton Region of the Alberta Learning Resources Council presented its Award of Merit for outstanding contributions to the school media profession to L.G. Wiedrick of the Department of Elementary Education. Dr. Wiedrick was the first full-time instructor in school librarianship at the University, and developed the present programs at the undergraduate, diploma, and graduate levels. He has also been closely associated with the planning and development of the Curriculum Library. Nearly all of those present for the award have been students in Dr. Wiedrick's program.

■ James Dixon, Lecturer in Medieval History, recently presented a paper in England entitled "Medieval Life and Culture."

■ David Lubell, Associate Professor in the Department of Anthropology, spoke at the 11th Annual Chacmool Archaeological Conference at the University of Calgary in October. In November, he delivered an invited paper on "Palaeoenvironments and Epipalaeolithic Economies in the Maghreb (ca. 20,000 to 5,000 B.P.)" to a symposium on "The Causes and Consequences of Food Production in Africa" held at the Annual Meeting of the American Anthropological Association in Los Angeles, California.

■ Occupational Therapists from across Canada attended a three day symposium sponsored by the Canadian Association of Occupational Therapists with support funding provided by a federal grant from Health and Welfare Canada. The purpose of the symposium was to review traditional patterns of service delivery within the profession in light of changing patterns of health care delivery and changing social roles.

Representatives of national and provincial occupational therapy associations, educators, clinicians and resource people from the Federal Government and other professions met for the purposes of developing goals, priorities and implementation strategies within the profession. Dr. Dupont, Health and Welfare Canada, outlined health priorities for the future. Nancy Prendergast and Alice Jantzen from the Commission on Education of the American Occupational Therapy Association also addressed the symposium. Three of the Alberta representatives to the symposium hold appointments within the Faculty of Rehabilitation Medicine. Sharon Brintnell, Acting Chairman of the Department of Occupational Therapy and President of the sponsoring organization, presented a paper at the meeting entitled, "Occupational Therapy: A National Perspective". Benita Fifield, Associate Professor, participated in the symposium and Helen Madill, Associate Professor, acted as moderator of a panel discussion entitled "Educators: Pacesetters for Professional Change."

■ Rene Day, Assistant Professor, Faculty of Nursing, attended the American Medical Association's Second National Conference on Medical Care and Health Services in Correctional Institutions from 27 to 28 October in Chicago.

■ Barbara Zier, Associate Professor, Dental Hygiene Program, has been appointed to the Minister for Advanced Education and Manpower's Advisory Committee on Student Affairs.

NOTICES

Notices must reach the Editor by 9 a.m. the Thursday prior to publication. Written notification is necessary. Notices should be sent to Folio Notices, 423 Athabasca Hall.

Ion

Ion is a journal of literature and comment being published at the University of Victoria. The editors request submissions of poetry, prose, review, or comment for inclusion in the inaugural issue, January 1979. Submissions should be sent to M. Thomas, "B" 1190 May Street, Victoria, British Columbia.

Parking Plug-Ins

The University endeavors to provide reliable service to stalls with electrical plug-ins when the temperature drops below  $-10^{\circ}\text{C}$ . At temperatures above  $-10^{\circ}\text{C}$ , electrical service to plug-ins will be automatically disconnected. This procedure is in effect for twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week. Faulty plug-ins should be reported to Physical Plant Maintenance by telephoning 432-4833 and reporting the number and location of the plug-in.

During the period from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., Monday to Friday, the two car parks will cycle their electrical loads every half hour with Stadium car park remaining on for the first half hour. Both car parks remain on until 9 a.m. the following morning.

Parking Booster Service

A battery boosting service is available to University parking permit holders from 3 p.m. to 6 p.m. on weekdays (excepting holidays), whenever the temperature drops to  $-23^{\circ}\text{C}$ . To obtain the service, telephone the Physical Plant Control Centre, 432-4833.

Campus Security Ski Check

With the advent of skiing season the potential of theft or loss of skiing equipment is once more of concern. Campus Security operates "Ski Check Alberta" in conjunction with the crime prevention program of the Department of the Solicitor General. This is a free service designed to provide quick identification of skis and poles.

Owners are invited to bring their ski equipment to the Campus Security office where an identification number (SIN or Operator's License Number) will be engraved on the items and a registration card compiled. This card is to be kept by the owner for reference purposes in the event the skis are lost or stolen.

Campus Security will also engrave owner's identification on valuable items such as bicycles, radios, calculators, and so forth, to further assist against loss or theft.

Campus Security offices are open on a twenty-four hour basis, seven days a week.

Association of Administrative Assistants

The Association of Administrative Assistants is planning to organize a branch in Edmonton and interested Edmontonians are invited to participate. There are about 550 members nationally with branches across Canada. The membership is mostly made up of women, but there is the occasional male and both sexes are welcome.

Career-minded administrative assistants interested in joining the Association of Administrative Assistants/Association des Adjoints Administratifs are invited to a reception on Tuesday, 5 December at 7:30 p.m. to be held at Faculté Saint-Jean, 8406 91 Street. Those people who plan to attend should contact Millie, telephone 427-4924 or Jacqueline, telephone 466-2196.

Art Program

The Department of Elementary Education will offer an art program for children from three and one-half to five years old for ten Thursdays beginning on 25 January 1979. For further details and registration information, telephone 432-5879.

Relativistic Heavy Ion Workshop

A short workshop is planned for 12 and 13 December by the Department of Physics to discuss the current status of heavy ion physics in the energy range around 400 MeV/N. Particular attention will be paid the following topics: coherent and incoherent pion production; connections between relativistic and non-relativistic region; the current experimental program at LBL: fireballs in heavy ion collisions; the experimental program at the Chalk River heavy ion cyclotron; the relationship between physics at meson factories and at heavy ion facilities; and experimental facilities for physics with heavy ion beams.

A number of invited participants will present papers and lead the workshop sessions. These include: M. Harvey, AECL (Chalk River); R. Landau, Oregon State University; G. Westfall, Lawrence Berkeley Laboratory; and L. Wilets, University of Washington.

For further information regarding the scientific program of, or participation in, the workshop, please contact J.M. Cameron, Department of Physics, telephone 432-3637.

CANSAVE Christmas Cards

This year CANSAVE Christmas cards are once again available from the English Department. The cards come in packets of ten, and prices range from $1 to $3. They may be purchased at the English Department General Office, 3-5 Humanities Centre. All proceeds from the sale of the cards go to the Canadian Save the Children Fund.

Retirement

Terry Rogier retired on 30 November 1978 after more than thirty years of service with the University. She started on 22 August 1948 in the Bursar's Office in the Arts Building, and in April 1952 she transferred to the Works Department (now called Physical Plant Projects).

There was a large retirement luncheon in her honor on 28 November in Lister Hall. Some of the approximately 100 people who attended have been working with Miss Rogier for more than twenty years.

WUSC Seminar Applications on Campus

The World University Service of Canada has announced that there will be two summer seminars for the summer of 1979. A domestic seminar will explore Franco-Ontarian communities, while the International Seminar will be held in Sri Lanka (formerly Ceylon). Both seminars will take place in the six weeks from mid-July to the end of August, and will involve approximately thirty students and three faculty members selected from candidates in universities and community colleges across Canada.

Application forms are now available from the Office of Student Affairs, 225 Athabasca Hall. Student applications will be accepted until 5 January 1979. All selections will be finalized in early February.

The WUSC seminar program celebrated its thirtieth anniversary in 1978. From the first seminar to Germany after the Second World War, the program has taken Canadian students and faculty around the world in a spirit of international cooperation and cross-cultural understanding.

By the 1970s, the focus settled on the developing areas of the world, with a research component to increase awareness of the social and economic development of the host area. Domestic seminars have been included in recent years to complement the international seminar.

RESEARCH GRANTS

Granting Agencies: Application Deadlines

This list of deadline dates for submissions to granting agencies for research funds, exchange programs, and travel grants is published every month in Folio. In order to allow sufficient time for processing, all applications should reach the Research Grants and Contracts Office at least ten days before the deadline date. Where other University resources are involved, the time requirement may be much longer than ten days and such applications should therefore be submitted well in advance. An extra copy of the application should be provided to the Research Grants and Contracts Office.

Further information may be obtained by consulting the Calendar of Granting Agencies for Research Funds, Exchange Programs, and Travel Grants, which is available in the offices of Deans, Directors of Institutes and Centres, and Department Chairmen, or by telephoning the Research Grants and Contracts Office, 432-5360. Note: Although the Calendar is updated on a continuous basis, the following information could be subject to change without notice. If staff members have advance information on forthcoming changes, the Research Grants and Contracts Office would appreciate being advised. Code: (R) Research funds; (E) Exchange programs; (T) Travel grants.
